

£1
70p for subscribers and free app

www.cambridgeindependent.co.uk

February 20

All fixed at Brown's Field Centre

Liz Todd with the gramophone she bought in 1975

Picture: Keith Heppell

Brown's Field Youth and Community Centre held a 'swap, collect and fix-fest' at the weekend.

Residents of East Chesterton brought their faulty and unwanted items to the centre on Saturday (February 16).

The day was organised by Cambridge Carbon Footprint, Brown's Field Youth and Community Centre, Transition Cambridge, Veolia, Cambridge Community Scrapstore and the City Council.

Nicole Barton, volunteer and events coordinator at CCF, said: "There was a really busy Repair Café.

"We had about 12 or 13 repairers, fixing everything from a wind-up gramophone to holes in people's jeans."